History of the CurveMaker

Thank you for your interest in CurveMakers, Inc. There is certainly nothing new about arches. They have been used for centuries to give structures both strength and beauty. Modern home construction techniques have essentially eliminated the need for an arch's strength, but the curving lines are as pleasing to the eye as ever. With our patented Arch Kits, it is CurveMakers' goal to simply make these wonderfully curved shapes attainable for everyone.

Based in Raleigh, North Carolina, CurveMakers has shipped arches nationally and internationally with a strong reputation as a knowledgeable and creative manufacturer of curved millwork. After years of cabinet making, president John Thomas founded the company in 1996 with a vision of standardizing arched cased openings for the entire building industry, whether it be professional builders/remodelers, or do-it-yourself homeowners.

While producing curved moldings of different styles and shapes, CurveMakers' goal was to introduce a value-added product that would help builders, remodelers, and homeowners attain the look they wanted without missing a beat in their increasingly busy schedules. It would be easy enough for a first time remodeler, and a breeze for an experienced tradesman. It would fit any budget and any taste. It would be the patented "Original Arch Kit", a standard for interior archways.

We at CurveMakers take tremendous pride in offering you great valued products that afford you the least total cost. CurveMakers will continue to explore these types of products, and will be sure to keep you updated with all the happenings of the arch world!
